Course Description
This course offers a critical examination of two cultures generally regarded as the “Founders of Western Civilization”—Ancient Israel and Greece. We begin in Archaic Greece and the development of the epic in the West. Then we look at the diverse literary tradition of Ancient Israel that came to be recognized as sacred Scripture (known alternatively as the Tanakh, Hebrew Bible, or Old Testament) and today forms the basis of three world religion. In the second half of the course, we will return to Classical Greece and consider the development of new forms of cultural expression in art, drama, and philosophy. Through a close examination of seminal texts, we will explore themes including the nature of divinity, the basis of morality, law, and justice, the rise of government and political ideology, the value of knowledge, wisdom, and happiness, and the role of heroes in the construction of cultural identity.

Course Objectives
Through close reading of seminal texts from the Western humanistic tradition, students will

- engage key issues relating to the human experience from a variety of perspectives, including but not limited to history, philosophy, religion, literature, and art.
- develop analytical and critical reading skills.
- learn to craft an informed and persuasive written argument.
